Co-Presidents' Message

Welcome back! We hope you had a nice winter break. A couple quick notes...

The REC Career Fair is coming up fast. We received strong interest from many employers. As of last week, more employers had confirmed their attendance than had participated last year. This is, of course, great news and we hope it is an early indication of an increase in hiring for 2012. Make yourself—and the program as a whole—look great to employers. Start researching companies and industries now to enable you to have intelligent conversations with employers next week.

This semester, the club will also head east to discover the Boston real estate market March 14-16. Boston is a city that, according to a recent Forbes article, is expected to experience a real estate recovery sooner than most of the country. The trip is packed with many tours and events. It will be a great trip!

There are many exciting Real Estate Club events this semester. In addition to great speakers like Brad Olsen (Principal at Atlantic Partners) and Doug Fry (President and CEO of Collier's International), the club will host employers like Health Care REIT.

This Week's Presentation

Brad Olsen

Bradley A. Olsen has been active in the area of international real estate investment for nearly 30 years. During that time, he has represented investors from the U.S., Germany, The Netherlands, the U.K., Canada and Japan on transactions valued in excess of $5 billion. He serves as President of Atlantic Partners, Ltd.

Prior to forming Atlantic Partners, Mr. Olsen was a principal of Richard Ellis, Inc., the US affiliate of a major international real estate advisory firm, and a shareholder of the international holding company. At Richard Ellis, he served as the director of the firm's investment advisory group, which advised domestic and international investors.
